Federal Legislator Contact Information

What's the best way to contact my Senator or Representative?

Members of Congress prefer to hear from their constituents by e-mail. Email is unquestionably faster and easier to sort than traditional mail. In addition, email is not subject to security screenings which extends delivery time. In order to avoid having their in boxes flooded with spam and letters from people in other states, Senators and Representatives require people e-mailing them to supply an address, including a +4 extension zip code, and other information before sending an e-mail. If you do not know the four digit extension for your zip code, please check the U.S. Postal Service web site for more information.

While U.S. Senators represent the entire state, it is important to remember that U.S. Representatives usually do not respond to individuals who do not live in their district. Click here to find your U.S. Representative.

Organizations may prefer to use traditional mail if they wish to use letterhead or are submitting a request containing multiple signatures.
